

Alliance Energy Group of Companies

Finalist for the Enterprise Saskatchewan Award for Training Excellence

The Alliance Energy Group of Companies is a privately held corporation originating in 1913. Alliance supplies professional electrical contracting services in the construction industry and has grown to become the largest electrical contractor in Saskatchewan with a field staff of 225 electricians throughout the province.

Alliance employs a significant number of apprentice and Journeyperson electricians. Because it takes 4 years to become a journeyperson electrician Alliance is constantly training apprentices and providing them with opportunities for them to learn the skills necessary to obtain their journeyperson's certificate.

100 percent of employees have access to training as training is a part of the culture at Alliance. Journeypersons and apprentices spend over 30 percent of their time participating in on-the-job training. Alliance recognizes that there is always more to be done and continues to take advantage of training opportunities.

Contact:

Paul McLellan, CEO
Alliance Energy Group of Companies
P.O. Box 1306
Regina, Saskatchewan
S4P 3B8
Ph: 306-721-6484

The 26th annual ABEX Awards Dinner will be hosted by the Saskatchewan Chamber of Commerce on October 24, 2009. Visit www.saskchamber.com or call 306-352-2671 for more information.

